THE PERFECT CUT. THE PERFECT WINE.

Fillet

CABERNET FRANC PINOT NOIR

The ripe tannins in a young, light reds like Cabernet Franc are perfectly matched with a lean tenderloin that has little to no marbling and is less rich than other cuts.

MALBEC CABERNET SAUVIGNON

Rib eye is the most marbled cut of the beef, and therefore the juiciest. A bold and full flavoured wine is the best pairing for the richness of the meat.

Ribeye

Tomahawk

SANGIOVESE & TEMPRANILLO (RIOJA)

These varietals are known for their small, thick skinned grapes and deep red colour. These are medium bodied wines that are softer than Cabernet and Malbec. These fruity, smoky wines are great to wash down a meat on the bone.

1

Going lean?

Match leaner cuts with lighter bodied wines.

2

Indulging?

Fatter cuts with lots of marbling pair with full bodied wines.

3

Young or Old?

The fat in food affects the flavours of your wine. Pair those juicy cuts with a well-aged wine
